To the Rector Churchwardens
& Vestrymen of Christ Church, Phil.

Philadelphia, February 16th, 1835.

Gent.n

Being about to leave this City in a few days with intent to reside elsewhere, I beg leave to resign all the Offices and stations in the Church which have been held by me for some years past, and trust you will find more able and active hands to manage these concerns.

I have made out my accounts as Warden, as treasurer of the Charity fund, as treasurer of Committee on H. Rigby's legacy to this day, and requested Mr. Moses Kempton to serve as acting Warden & Treasurer &c. until the close of our Church year on Easter Monday next 20th April, and the consequent Election of Church Wardens and other Officers of the Church. The next regular stated Meeting of the Vestry takes place in the Church on Easter Monday for the choice of Wardens; and on the Monday following viz 27 April when the annual Committees are appointed, these Accounts will be handed in as closing the duties of your humble fellow labourer in this portion of our Masters vineyard, for the future prosperity of which and the happiness of every individual member of this Congregation I shall not cease to pray during the remainder of my life.

Yours affectionately

Henry J. Hutchins

To the Rector Churchwardens
and Vestrymen of Christ Church,
Philadelphia.

Dear Sir,

My sickness makes it necessary for me to ask for my quarter's salary sooner than I expected. You will excuse the favour by getting one of your young men to cash the check for me (you may send me the whole, or a part, say $200) & bring it to my house.

I thank God that my violent cold has nearly left me without any serious effects, as far as I know. Prudence will require my staying in the house all this week, at least till Monday.

I was sorry that I was too unwell to see you the other evening when you called. I need not assure you that I shall be glad to see you when you can get as far as this. Yrs resp.ly & gr. friend

Jno. W. James
